Dove of Peace Hovered Over Meeting of the City Fathers Last Night--Brother Lot Well Supported

(From Sanday Advertiser.)

After an absence of about one week, the bird of peace returned last night its old perch on the roof of the city hat building. Bearedly had she alighted when she twiftered down into the supervisors assembly hall that she was tired of flying that she did not care to fly any more and that she would regent any pillkia which would cause her to take flight.

Mayor Ishe and all the supervisors intened to the twitterings and then decided not to disturb the bird. An a result there were no floworks at the aupervisors meeting last night. The entire affair was almost as quiet as a Sunday school picnic; so much so in fact that just before adjournment Supervisor Larsen arose and spologized to the big gallery that the acceptised fireworks had not been pulled off.

Once the fittle bird jumped off the cornice and fluttered in the zir for a few ministes. This was when a letter was read from Albert Waternouse, president of the territories heard of agriculture and formatry, that the importance of milk he left in the hands of Antone Richards.

By appointive power Payor Lang has removed Mr. Richards and has supplained him with his brothey, Lot Lang. The bird did not jump far tyranse if was soon apparent that the catter board was behind Mayor Lang in the appointment of his brother to the milk inspectorship. Incidentally, it was revealed that there will soon be piliking over this question between Honolulus and Territory officials.

Waterhouse's letter was referred to the health and manigation committee for report but not before several of the supervisors commented. for report but not hefore several or the supervisors commented. Logan deprecated that there was possibility of disruption between Honolulu and the territory but that he thought the city should be allowed to condect its own milk inspecies.

Supervisor Quinn said: "In this matter I do not think we should have anything to do with the territorial officials. Every time they backfire we get the worst of it. They are trying to saddle Richards on us. I say that Lane is as good as Richards, and we do not have to pay the cost of training him for several years."

Supervisorfairs on said: "I think it a yery poor, piece of, business to attempt to take it out on spite on Lot Lane because he is the brother of the mayor. I am for Lot Lane for milk inspector."

When the question of appointments came up the little hird of peace did not oven raffic a feather. In sing song the clerk read off the list presented by His Honor. The roll was called and there, were seven successive "ayes." Keepers of parks and school janitors received no more comment firm did the fellowing appointments:
